Hello to our new Head Boy and Head Girl

My name is Evan Linacre and I am proud to be the school's new Head Boy this year. Being Head Boy is important to me because I can not only represent my school but also help to improve the school and support my peers. I believe I am hard working, a good listener, enthusiastic and a good friend. With my positive attitude I hope I can make a difference this year. My hobbies and interests are football, singing and playing the guitar.

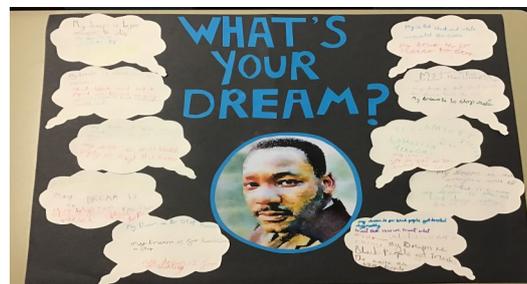

My name is Emily Murphy and I am really excited to be Hartburn's new Head Girl. I wanted to be Head Girl to make my mark on the school because Hartburn is a brilliant place that has taught me so much.

I am a hard worker, I can empathise and I am willing to help. I hope that these skills can help me contribute to the school.

Black History Month

by Autumn Burke - Deputy Head Girl

This month is Black History Month. Throughout the school we have been learning about the inspirational Black people who have shaped our modern world today.

In our classes we have had an assembly about famous black people. In our assembly we spoke a bit of Jamaican. We learned about Martin Luther King, Mary Seacole and many more. We learned that Romans did not have race or assign people by colour.

Clever Fingers !

This week Nursery children have been developing their fine motor skills by learning finger rhymes such as, Tommy Thumb and Five Little Monkeys. Children have listened to the songs, joined in the actions and performed in front of others.

As usual, our learning at school has been supported by the fantastic parents in Early Years, many of whom have uploaded videos to SEESAW of their children having fun practising the rhymes at home.

Thank you for your support!

Play Equipment Rules

by Lewis Rogers - Deputy Head Boy

*You should use the playtime equipment correctly by not using stilts as weapons as I have seen, walk on them safely please.

* The tennis balls are for throwing and catching not throwing at other children. The balls are not supposed to be kicked, you should throw them to each other.

* Footballs use them to pass to each other and play football.

* Hoola Hoops are not to be thrown or for any other use apart from doing it normally.

* Use the dog scoops properly and don't fling the balls too high.

*Make sure you use the equipment safely.

Poppy Appeal

Poppies and other merchandise will be available to purchase from Monday. List of items and suggested donations will be sent by email.

Y5 & Y6 current topic, 'A Childs War' has seen them producing some excellent pieces of work.

The Blitz

Sirens wailing,

Viciously infiltrating the city,

The jet black smoke covered our faces,

Run, run! To the train station.

Boom!

Bombs squawk like an eagle hunting for prey,

Skies are blood red,

Everyone turning off their lights.

Boom went a building falling like jagged teeth,

Terror struck, Oh I'm shook!

How long left? Can I bare?

Please, just spare.

This weeks Book recommendation from Mrs Goodwin & Hartburn Librarians

Do you love animals? Have you ever heard of a Numbat or a Zorilla? Well, if you haven't, get stuck into this fantastic book about unusual animals! 'Martin Brown's Lesser Spotted Animals' takes you on a journey across the world to find some very odd looking beasts, with equally odd names!!!

This book is recommended for readers from Y3 upwards. If you are a keen illustrator, you can find out how to draw some of these amazing creatures by following this excellent video by Martin himself - <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=vBpmvXqGU3s>

Happy reading!

Fantastic Beasts !

Some amazing creative homework brought into Class 6 by Charlie, and Isabelle.
