Williams Wallace

By Olivia Edson

In Miss Hoskin's English class, the children completed a warm-up writing activity where they wrote about William Wallace encouraging his troops to fight from the film 'Braveheart'. However, they could not hear what was being said and had to rely on their imagination to describe the scene.

Olivia Edson from Class 12 Wrote:

"Legions of men start trekking nervously. The British command their horses to speed up. The Scottish start shuffling. The British start up their troops but William gives words of comfort. The men are ready. The perilous fight begins..."
