The Myth of the Uxmal Dwarf

By Thomas Hunter , Class 15

Long ago in Uxmal, an old witch lady wanted a son.

One day, the old lady found a tropical bird's egg. She watched it every day and when it hatched, a boy with red hair, green skin popped out.

As the boy grew older, he got smarter and stronger. When the king realised he was scared because he thought the boy was going to take over.

The scared king challenged the strong dwarf to build an enormous pyramid as he in a flash, the pyramid was standing strong as a bull.

All hope was lost, the king was defeated. The pyramid was standing strong and tough. The village was happy.
